SUBJECT: Dissemination of Information on the Occurrence of USSR
Atomic Weapons Test Explosions

CONFIDENTIAL

1. PROBLEM.—To establish appropriate policies and procedures governing the dissemination of information on the occurrence of USSR atomic weapons test explosions.

2. DISCUSSION.—

a. Because of the "leak" to the press of information on the last two Soviet atomic weapons test explosions, it was necessary for the President to publicly announce the occurrence of these tests several days after they were detected.

c. This problem has been considered by the Joint Atomic Energy Intelligence Committee, and recommended policies and procedures have been drafted which provide for more secure arrangements within the government for dissemination of information on the occurrence of USSR atomic weapon explosions. (See TAB A.) This proposal has been unanimously agreed to by all members of JAEIC.

d. The DCI has the authority to implement this proposal under the provisions of Section 102 (d) (3) of the National Security Act of 1947 and NSCID No. 11, dated 6 January 1950, in connection with his responsibility for protecting intelligence sources and methods from unauthorized disclosure. This can be accomplished by the issue of an appropriate DCID (Tab B) to the government officials involved both inside and outside the intelligence community.

e. CONCLUSION.—In the interest of national security, policies and procedures should be established which provide adequate limitations on the dissemination of information related to the occurrence of a Soviet atomic weapons test explosion.
